ROSA HILL GOES TO GRAND JURY

Charged With Robbing Stranger. Chicken Jones Goes Back to the Hospital.

The Friday docket is always looked upon with alarm by Justice John for it usually runs half through the afternoon.

The docket yesterday on the criminal side was short, but the civil end carried its usual number of cases. None of the latter were of more than private interest, dealing mainly with lawyers and people with bad bills.

Maggie Carter was charged $25 for hitting Mary Taylor over the head with a piece of iron.

Rosa Hill was sent to the grand jury for "rolling" a stranger from her country.

Jennie Jones paid $5 for beating Mary Smithson.

Chicken Jones, who recently passed through a serious illness at the City Hospital, got drunk again, and was sent back to the hospital at his own request.

Then the civil cases were called.

The Theatres.

Rube White, the chore boy in "A Ragged Hero," furnishes a considerable amount of humor when he strolls with a transparency to lead a temperance procession in the village. The tramp comes along, and seeing the transparency, he concludes to add the finishing touches in the form of a few words which completely reverse the sentiments of Rube. Rube takes up the transparency and the audience are wholly unconscious of the fact which the tramp has played. "A Ragged Hero" will be seen to-night and matinee to-day.

The Sign of the Four.

"The Sign of the Four," said to be the cleverest and strongest of the plays by Sir A. Conan Doyle and William Gillette, will be presented at the Bijou 31 next week. It is a detective story but not one of the cheap kind, and has been successfully produced in many theatres. The advertisement contains a feature that is novel and unique. The usual matinee on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday will be given.

The Knowles, Hypnotists.

An attraction entirely out of the ordinary is announced for the Academy of Music the coming week, when The Knowles, hypnotists, will hold the course. Their performance is a feature that is new and unique. The usual matinee on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday will be given.

DR. WOODEND GIVES DETECTIVES THE SLIP

solidated Stock Exchange, on an attachment for $4,835, in favor of Harry C. Johnston, who held a judgment for that amount.

"The firm of Woodend and Company," said President Randolph, of the Consolidated Exchange, is composed of Dr. W. E. Woodend, L. J. Bruch, who was the manager for Woodend and Company, is a member of the Consolidated Exchange, but he has financial interest in the firm of Woodend and Company, and cannot be held responsible for the present state of affairs.

Bruch severed his connection with the firm a week ago. Woodend, although a member of the Consolidated Exchange, seldom was on the floor. What business he transacted on the Exchange was through brokers.

Up to a few days ago the firm had extensive wire connections to branches in various cities, and it was generally supposed he was doing a large business. It was said today that several attachments against Woodend and Company had been issued. B. P. Goodwin, of Petersburg, Va., says the firm owes him more than $10,000, and that he obtained a summons for Woodend some time ago, but did not serve it. He said further that Woodend was to have met a number of creditors yesterday, but failed to do so.

Dr. Woodend abandoned the practice of medicine nearly four years ago, and about that time became a member of the Consolidated Exchange.

He is an admirer of fine horses. Dr. Woodend became prominent at several horse shows, having thirty-five entries at the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden last November, and he was twelfth of the list of winners. Reginald Vanderbilt being the thirteenth. He was probably the most prominent exhibitor at the Long Branch Horse Show.

Recently twenty of the Woodend horses were sold at auction for an aggregate of $11,000.

Armed with a warrant for the arrest of Dr. W. E. Woodend, an officer visited the Woodend residence to-day, and searched the house, but found no trace of Dr. Woodend. Mrs. Woodend said: "My husband is very ill and will appear in due time. I will say no more at this time."

When the patrolman reported that Woodend was not at his home, Assistant District Attorney Krotel said that Woodend was now a fugitive from justice. A warrant had been issued for his arrest on the charge of grand larceny. He believes that the broker left his home last night or early to-day.

Abraham Gruber was to-day appointed temporary receiver of Woodend and Company.

The more important out-of-town offices of the firm are in Chicago, Philadelphia, Richmond, Washington, Newark, Atlanta, City, Baltimore, N. J., Rochester, Watertown, Utica, Oswego, Ogdensburg, Ballyhoo, Southampton and Patchogue.

Well Known Here.

Dr. Woodend is well known in Richmond. He and Mrs. Woodend were familiar figures at the Horse Show last fall, and no animal brought here attracted more favorable attention than theirs. Among their prize winners were Brown Baron, Baron Brown, Gold Leaf, King Brilliant, Maple Leaf, Pitter-Patter, Master, Harmony, Melody, Peter Paul, and others. Dr. and Mrs. Woodend became favorites.

Woodend and Company were until recently represented in Richmond by Messrs. Hall and Whitford, No. 114 East Main Street.

streets and resident districts the decorations are profuse and beautiful. The exercises to-morrow will be more serious than resplendent. There will be comparatively little of the glittering pageant that marked the dedication exercises a year ago, but the ceremonies preceding the formal opening will be none the less interesting.

Opening Programme.

Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus, of Chicago, will deliver the invocation. At the conclusion of the prayer Director of Works Isaac S. Taylor will deliver the keys of the buildings to President Francis, who will in turn transfer the buildings to Frederick J. V. King, the director of exhibits.

The chorus, "Hymn of the West," the words by Edmund Clarence Steadman, and music by John Knowles Paine, will then be sung, and addresses will be made by the following gentlemen: Mayor Wells, of St. Louis; Hon. Tawney, of Minnesota, for the House of Representatives; Commissioner General Albino R. Nunes, of Mexico, in behalf of the foreign commissioners; E. H. Harriman, of New York, for the exhibitors.

The last speech of the day will be by Secretary of War William H. Taft, and at his conclusion the signal will be given to President Roosevelt, who will be in the House, the golden key will be pressed, the cascades will send down their floods, the thousands of banners will be unfurled, and the great Louisiana Purchase Exposition will be open to the world.

It is said that an enormous crowd will attend the exposition, as excursion trains are coming in by the score, and to-morrow will be officially declared a legal holiday by Mayor Wells. Among the distinguished visitors to arrive to-day were Secretary of War William H. Taft, who represents the President, and General A. R. Chaffee. They reached the city at 8 o'clock to-night, and were met by General Bates, President Francis and other officials. The special train bearing four hundred persons, including the committee on from the House of Representatives, appointed to attend the opening exercises, also arrived to-night, as did governors from a number of States and several notable foreign visitors.

During the day the United States gunboat Nashville, with the torpedo boat destroyer Lawrence, which will represent the navy at the fair, arrived. As the ships came they were greeted by a chorus
